

The S1 singlescull facts

It combines the possibility of daily rowing training and specific technique training at the highest possible level - get live feedback on how your performance changes when you change your technique. When nobody is able to row, you learn how to use your individual potential to reach maximum speed. It's the feeling for your body and the boat that you get, every time you practice on your BIOROWER. It is the fastest way to make everyone understand how to use his individual potential to become perfectly compatible with everyone on the team.
